"JIMMIE" TO RESIGN

As Receiver for the S., W. & S. Railway.

A TELEGRAM SENT TODAY

Asking Him to Forward His Resignation to Judge Richard Field at Lexington.

MR. TREADWAY IS HERE.

The Green Walker Farm Attached in Behalf of the Bank—A Day's Developments.

A telegram was sent to J. C. Thompson this morning, addressed in care of his attorney in the City of Mexico, requesting him to forward his resignation as receiver for the Sedalia, Warsaw and Southwestern Railway Co. to Judge Richard Field, of the Pettis county circuit court, at Lexington.

The DEMOCRAT's informant is a well known attorney, who thinks the desired action will be taken by "Jimmie" without delay.

Mr. Treadway Here. Dwight Treadway, of St. Louis, arrived from St. Louis this morning and is a guest at Kaiser's.

The gentleman was seen during the forenoon at the office of Jackson & Montgomery, but stated that he had no idea as to what Judge Field would do in the matter of the receivership.

"I have just arrived in the city," he said, "and am waiting for an opportunity to confer with my attorneys in regard to the matter."

Mr. Treadway added that he might return to St. Louis tonight, but he was rather inclined to the belief that he would not get away before noon tomorrow.

Mr. Thompson will undoubtedly forward his resignation as requested, but who will be named as his successor is a question that is causing considerable speculation to be indulged in.

No Receiver.

Judge W. S. Shirk, one of the attorneys for the Missouri Pacific, was seen by a DEMOCRAT reporter just before the noon hour and interrogated regarding the receivership problem, but dismissed the subject by remarking that there was no sure thing that any one would be appointed as Mr. Thompson's successor, even in case of his resignation.

The Missouri Pacific has ten days in which to file a motion for a re-hearing, and it is the general belief that this will be done. If so, it is doubtful if the case gets before the supreme court before next fall, and in the meantime matters will remain in statu quo.

Mr. Walker Here.

John R. Walker, United States attorney for the western district of Missouri, was in the city this morning, on his way to Springfield, and was met at the depot by Judge Shirk and County Attorney Hoffman.

The three gentlemen spent the time while the train stopped here in discussing Mr. Thompson's crooked transactions, and the DEM-

Attached a Farm.

The farm known as the Green Walker place, consisting of 317 acres, near Pleasant Green, Cooper county, was sold at trustee's sale yesterday, Sam W. Castle, who bought it some time ago, again becoming the purchaser, the considers' association met at Clinton this week, but one gentleman whose face has been prominent on former occasions will be absent. His name appears on the rolls of the association as J. C. Thompson, of Sedalia. What cognomen he is wearing now is a secret.

The Democrat is far from condoning the crimes of Thompson, we detest and abhor the offenses with which he is charged and hope to see full justice meted out to him. But it is not fair to class him with the worthy and honorable business men who were here last week, and the Democrat will resist such an attempt as an unwarranted reflection upon our guests. They were men of honor, men of integrity. They, like others, were deceived in Thompson. They cannot be blamed for being somewhat keenly sensitive to focus allusions of the above sort.

The Wounded Cashier.

A. Bascom Crawford, the ex-cashier of the defunct American National bank, who is under indictment for embezzlement and who shot himself with a 38-calibre pistol on Thursday, when it was ascertained that he could not at that time secure further bondsman, is resting very uneasily in jail and it is apprehended that he cannot recover even if he would.

The projectile was cut from the back yesterday morning, but Mr. Crawford does not seem to have been materially improved by the operation. He is an abnormally nervous man and it is thought by some who know him well that he is anxious to shuffle off the mortal coil even under the tender manifestations of his devoted wife, Mrs. Noblett and other ladies who are in almost constant attendance upon him.

Crawford has since his incarceration been unable to retain nourishing food, or as is suspected, he declines it. With what view he practically fasts can only be in-

Immediately afterwards the property was attached by the sheriff of Cooper county, on a writ sent from Pettis county, in behalf of the First National bank.

Receiver Latimer will endeavor to show that the farm in reality belonged to J. C. Thompson instead of Mr. Castle, but Lawyer Longan, attorney for Mr. Castle, thinks there will be no trouble in beating the case. James T. Montgomery was present at the sale yesterday as attorney for the bank, while J. H. Bothwell was on hand as trustee.

Newkirk and Not Thompson.

J. Q. A. Wentworth is in the city in the interest of the Salmon Falls, New Hampshire, bank, which has a claim of $3,500 against the First National, in the shape of a note given by B. S. Rembaugh, of the Enterprise mills.

The note in question was placed with the Salmon Falls bank at a discount. Subsequently the note was paid by the maker to the First National, and on May 6, 1886, during Recorder Conner's term of office, the record was satisfied by Cyrus Newkirk as president of the bank, instead of by Cashier Thompson, as stated by the Gazette this morning.

Instead of the money being remitted by the First National to the Salmon Falls bank it was used by the home bank and the interest paid on the $3,500 to the Salmon Falls institution.

This is said to be the first questionable transaction traced directly to the door of President Newkirk, and Examiner Thorne stated this afternoon that it was possible that Mr. Newkirk had been imposed upon by Mr. Thompson.

Abhors "Jimmie's" Crimes.

We regret, says the Clinton Democrat, to see the following in the Tipton Times:

"The annual session of the Bankferred. He is in a precarious condition at the best and it is thought that he cannot live.

Col. Boyd, one of Crawford's attorneys, said this morning that another name had been added to the bond representing $14,000, and Judge Phillips will be asked to let the wounded man be placed in more satisfactory quarters with the additional security.

For the Bank Wreckers.

Worst of all dishonesty is that kind that betrays confidence, says the Springfield Sunday Review. It is bad enough to break through locks at night and steal from a sleeper, but the man who is trusted and then betrays the faith that others have in him is far more despicable than the midnight burglar.

Hypocrisy is one of the vilest sins that afflict mankind. The concentrated conception of all the theories of the fountain head of evil stop at the hypocrite. This is why the banker who robs the people who gave over to him money for safe keeping is always most heartily despised.

The bank wrecker has played his infamy through hypocrisy. He has affected superb cleanliness of character, yet he has been the lowest order of small thief. And yet how rarely, if he has money left, does he get his just deserts.

Those Coffins, of the Indianapolis National bank, who systematically, persistently and effectually looted the concern, have no reason to complain of the sentence given them. There is nothing more despicable than the betrayal of a trust. The public trusted these men with the officers of the bank, and they betrayed the confidence reposed in them, applied the funds of the bank to their own uses, broke up stockholders, beggared depositors, and caused a widespread wreck. Now they are given but five and ten years in the penitentiary—one for ten years, the other for five.

That is getting off easy enough.

Many a man struggling with pangs of hunger, homeless amid a thousand homes, has been sent to prison for a longer period than was meted out to those bank wreckers, because he stole enough to keep his wife and children from starving.

Because men have pretended to be of high cast, because they have laid claims to superlative respectability, no reason remains why they should escape with light penalties. Punish hypocrisy to the limit.

WHAT IT COST THE MINERS.

Losses in Wages in the Pittsburg District Aggregate $1,800,000.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 19.—A well informed authority in the coal business estimates that the coal strike in this district has cost the miners in wages $1,800,000, taking it for granted that the normal output of the region had been maintained. In proportion to the general output this district mined about one-sixth of the coal dug in the area affected by the strike. With a reasonable proportion between the prices paid in this and other districts, the loss in wages alone, says the same authority, would be over $10,000,000. Estimating the gain of the miners by the settlement of the strike to be 10 cents a ton over former prices, it will take them about one and a half years to make up by increase of earnings for the time they have lost.

Election of Directors.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Equitable Loan and Investment association today resulted in the election of the following directors:

E. E. Johnston, C. B. Rodes, J. H. Doyle, J. H. Rodes, John Montgomery, jr., Wm. H. Powell, jr., and W. D. Fellows.

The same directors were chosen for Association No. 2.

THE newspapers at Springfield are in a row over the case of Crawford, the embezzling bank cashier.

JAXON, the Canadian half-breed who is said to have been at the head of a plot to blow up the national capitol and loot the treasury, emphatically denies the story.

CORN is going to be king in Central Missouri this year, and a king, too, that will put money in everybody's pocket and make us all forget hard times, temporarily, at least.

THE poor old Gazette indulges in a graveyard whistle in the vain hope that such a noise will attract public attention from the vigorous protests which well-known republicans are making against the late boss-ridden convention.

YESTERDAY was the date fixed for the coal miners to resume work under the Columbus compromise, but very few returned to work. In some places the miners refused to accept the schedule and in other places the operators were dissatisfied with it.

THE republican organ is fulsome in its praise of Hon. J. H. Bothwell's "record" in the legislature. The fact, however, that the voters rejected Mr. Bothwell at the first opportunity after the record was made out-weighs many columns of praise and flattery.

HAVING defeated Mr. Bothwell in the eastern district, where the republican vote is the largest, the democracy will have no trouble in downing him in the county at large. This task is made all the easier by reason of the wire-pulling and bossism which has disgusted so many republicans.

IT is a good indication when business men are anxious to invest their capital in a city and the gentlemen who are asking for a franchise for an additional electric light plant certainly show a degree of confidence in the continued prosperity of Sedalia that should be encouraging to every citizen.

NOTHING will come of the effort a number of sincere republicans are making to induce the county committee to ask the resignation of the candidates selected by the "delegate" convention and order a new deal. The bosses are in control and they will never consent to see the work that cost them so much time and trouble undone.

OUR republican friends are by no means as harmonious as they might be. The bosses who secured and managed the "delegate" convention are highly gratified at their victory over the masses, but they are becoming quite nervous at the prospect of running their favorites against the deep-seated and emphatic disapprobation of the convention's methods; then the free silver republicans are becoming troublesome after the encouragement they have received from Kansas and Ohio, and the well-known leaning of Brother Baldwin, the manager of the local organ, toward populism is creating distrust in the ranks. Altogether the g. o. p. is in an unhappy frame of mind, and no wonder scores of the faithful are demanding a new deal.

THE terrible suffering now being endured by the striking miners and their families in some sections of the country, says the Free Press, makes it doubly desirable that they should come to their own relief by accepting the terms of compromise to which they are committed by their leaders. It is a bad time to be wasting millions in idleness.

EVERY encouragement should be offered to business men to make investments and start new enterprises. Every dollar thus invested is an evidence of faith in the future of the city and serves to encourage the timid and desponding. Let street improvement and public work of all kinds be pushed as rapidly as possible. It is only by an effort that inertia can be overcome and the revival of trade and industry be brought about.

It is charged that a gigantic conspiracy to corner the coal market has been unearthed at Cincinnati. The prime movers are Chicago men and it is alleged that they have bribed influential men among the miners to urge them to continue the strike until October. This would greatly enhance the price of the coal the conspirators have on hand and enable them to extort millions from the consumers who are forced to buy coal at any price. Of course the suffering imposed upon the destitute families of the miners cuts no figure with the heartless schemers.

THE esteemed, though erratic, Kansas City Star inquires, "Is Missouri a Doubtful State?" Certainly, at this season of the year. Missouri is always doubtful in the minds of republicans until election day rolls round, when the usual democratic majority is sure to be recorded. Then as soon as the sanguine republican managers and their mugwump cohorts can crawl from under the avalanche, the state gets "doubtful" again. A "doubtful state?" Certainly—except on election day, when it is reliably democratic.

THE coal miners lost their strike through the violent acts of the anarchists, says the St. Joe News. For the credit of American workmen he said that the lawlessness which characterizes the strikes in Pennsylvania and other eastern states was confined exclusively to the foreign element. The American born and naturalized citizens of the United States have behaved remarkably well in these trying times. The mine owners are directly responsible for the crimes which have been committed during this strike. They supplanted decent workmen with the anarchistic slum of Europe, and when these men found themselves face to face with starvation they did not hesitate to burn, kill and make depredations upon private property.

A NUMBER of earnest, zealous republicans are urging the candidates nominated by the late convention to voluntarily withdraw in the interest of harmony and fairness and permit the county committee to call a primary election and thus secure a fair expression of republican voters. They argue that the party is hopelessly divided and that sincere republicans are so placed that they cannot support their ticket without strengthening the "bosses" and thus fastening the shackles of bossism upon their own party, and this they regard as a worse calamity than defeat at the polls. So that if by any chance the party should win a victory, it would be offering an inducement to the bosses and wire-pullers to repeat next year the wrongs committed against the masses.

Eugene Germain, United States consul at Berne, has sent to the department of state an account of the workings of a novel enterprise there, being a commission for the unemployed, created by law. A committee of seven made up of representatives of labor unions, employers and the municipal government undertake to provide employment for subscribers out of work or to maintain them when awaiting employment. Subscribers when working pay 5 cents per month dues. There is also an appropriation of $1,000 from the city council, and charitable subscriptions. Subscribers out of work for two weeks are entitled to benefits ranging from 20 to 30 cents per day, about equal there in purchasing power to our dollar here. Benefits are paid only to persons innocently out of employment, and persons leaving their work wilfully and without just cause are debarred from benefits. Comfortable headquarters were provided at which the unemployed report twice daily and make themselves comfortable.—St. Joe Gazette.

RECOVERED HIS DOG.

A Little Local in the "Evening Democrat" Did the Work.

On Sunday night Rev. Father B. Dickman, of Sacred Heart church, had stolen from his premises the large and handsome pedigreed dog that was expressed to him by a Kansas friend recently.

As the reverend gentleman prized the canine highly, he inserted an advertisement in the DEMOCRAT of yesterday, offering a reward for the recovery of the animal.

Two hours after paper was out the DEMOCRAT received a dispatch from Lamonte, saying that the dog was there, and two suspicious men who had the brute in charge had been arrested.

Father Dickman was apprised of the contents of the message, and in company with Chas. Keck left this morning for Lamonte, where they recovered the canine and returned home at 10:25 a. m.

The two men who had been arrested were released, as Father Dickman did not care to prosecute them, notwithstanding their act cost him several dollars.

THAT DECISION.

Bond Investment Companies' Charters Sustained by the Supreme Court.

A Jefferson City special to the Republic has the following in regard to the decision of the state supreme court in the case against the bond investment companies:

"There will be rejoicing among those interested in the welfare of the three bond investment companies doing business in the state. The suits instituted by the attorney general to vacate their charters was disposed of by the supreme court today. Judge Macfarlane filed the opinions and holds that these concerns were properly incorporated and their business conducted within the scope of their articles of association. From this view Judges Sherwood and Burgess dissent, while Judge Brace did not sit. The general law concerning corporations, after enumerating the various classes of business that may incorporate concludes with the words, 'and other purposes,' and this is deemed broad enough to let in bond investment companies. Concerning this matter Judge Macfarlane says:

"We are unable to see that there is even a suggestion upon the face of the certificate of incorporation that the proposed business is illegal either in its character or the manner of conducting it. There is nothing illegal in the issuance of bonds nor selling the same upon installments, if done in a lawful manner; and the manner and time of redemption or payments should naturally be left to the corporation issuing them. There is no suggestion on the face of the pleadings that respondents are abusing or misusing the franchises of the corporation for the purpose of conducting a lottery or other unlawful business, and until such abuse or misuse is shown, we cannot interfere to declare a forfeiture."

Attorney General Walker says that he will proceed in a few days against these companies on the ground that they are lotteries. There are three of these organizations in the state, located at St. Louis, Nevada and Sedalia."

urday was a success in spite of the rainy appearance early in the morning.

Our association in the Queen City ought to be a trifle proud of its elegant quarters. At least so say visitors nearly every day.

The membership is growing nicely every week, in spite of dull times and hot weather.

The idea of holding an association camp, for several weeks at the most advantageous point, seems to meet with favor. It can be run on a "hard time" basis, which, would give members one or two weeks' quiet rest at a very low cost.

The various committees are beginning to lay plans for winter work, which promises to be by far the best season's work ever done in Sedalia.

A member of the "Business Men's Class" recently remarked that "it was wonderful" how the light exercise in the gymnasium helped him. Last Tuesday there were twelve in this class, which is a good attendance considering the weather.

MR. GENTRY'S HORSES.

The Good Showing They Are Making at Terre Haute.

Pettis county horses are thus referred to in the Terre Haute, Ind., Express of Sunday, the 17th.

J. A. Ramey, with the three pacing brothers by Ashland Wilkes, dam Dame Wood, by Wedgewood, has three that will do to go to the race with. The 5-year-old John R. Gentry worked an easy half in 1:06, quarter in 32½ seconds, and was not extended at any part of the trip. Gentry is a remarkable horse. As a 3-year-old he made thirteen starts and never lost a heat, going into winter quarters with a record of 2:13½. Last year he was not campaigned and can this season be looked on as a very promising candidate for high honors. If he should fail there will still be honors plenty in his family, as his 2-year-old brother, Theodore Shelton, needs only to stay right to do the world's record trick.

Friday Mr. Ramey let him go what seemed to be a dead easy quarter in 32 seconds. What made it seem easy was that about 100 yards from the wire Mr. Ramey shook the little fellow up and from there out his flight was like a shot out of a gun. If there ever was a 2-minute clip shown by a pacer the little fellow did it right there. When congratulated upon the time made, Mr. Ramey remarked, "While it may sound like wild talk, I am confident that I can drive the little fellow a quarter in 29 seconds." The colt is well developed and is strong enough to carry his clip.

The chestnut mare Dame Wood, by Wedgewood, bids fair to rank as a top notcher in the throwing of extreme speed, when the records of the year are made up. She has already to her credit John R. Gentry, 2:13½ pacing as a 3-year-old, Myron McHenry, 2:19¼ trotting. Her other colts, Theodore Shelton, with pacing record of 1:11 for half mile as a yearling, will come near going into winter quarters with the 2-year-old pacing record.

He is about the fastest piece of horseflesh that is brushing out these June days. Right now he can go a quarter in 30 seconds, and how much faster it is hard to say. He has a 4-year-old brother that will secure a record of 2:20 about the first time he is started up. One of the curious things about the old mare's colts is that all those that follow her in color are trotters, while all the bays are pacers.

Baptist Missionary Society. The Missouri Baptist Women's Missionary society began their annual meeting at the Baptist church in Warrensburg today and continue in session three days. The society was organized about twenty-two years ago, and represents a church membership in this state of about 135,000. From 100 to 150 delegates are expected to be in attendance.

Kicked by a Horse.

Mary May, the little daughter of J. D. May, who resides ten miles north of the city, was kicked by a horse on Sunday and was severely injured. She was unconscious and unable to move for twenty-four hours. The little girl was a little better today, but her recovery is still in doubt.

LET THE CONTRACT

For Lighting the City For the Ensuing Five Years.

At last night's meeting of the council Judge Metsker's company was awarded the contract for lighting the city for the ensuing five years. There were two bids submitted, viz:

The Electric Light and Power company (Mr. Montgomery's) offered to furnish for five years—from August, 1894, to August, 1899—100 arc lights for $77.50 per annum for each light; and 34 incandescent lights for $300 per annum. The Electric Railway, Light and Power Company of Sedalia (Judge Metsker's) offered to furnish 100 or more low tension arc lights of 2,000 standard candlepower for $6.35 each per month; and 34 or more incandescent lights of sixteen candlepower at 50 cents per month each from August 1, 1894, to August 1, 1899.

After spirited discussion, the Peter Frank light franchise matter was laid on the table, the vote being 5 to 3 against a second reading.

An ordinance was passed regulating the running of bicycles and requiring that they keep on the right hand side of the street, under penalty of a fine ranging from $1 to $10.

A remonstrance against converting the Ingram property into a city hospital was referred to the proper committee.

After disposing of some minor routine matters the council went into executive session to discuss financial matters.

IT WAS A DRAW.

Fitzsimmons and Choynski Had It Red Hot Last Night.

Lack of generalship and over-training last night at the Boston theater lost Joe Choynski one of the greatest chances of his life. With a right-hander on the jaw he floored Bob Fitzsimmons in the third round of their contest. "Lanky Bob" took fully eight seconds to rise from his back and he was groggy when he regained his feet. Had Choynski been cooler and displayed better judgment, he could have knocked his man out, but, eager to finish him, he went at him helter skelter and tired himself out in the endeavor to administer the coup de grace.

In a minute Fitzsimmons recovered from the shock of the blow, and fought his man to the ropes. Choynski had shot his best and thereafter he was but a chopping block in the hands of his stronger and more skillful opponent, and finally the police stepped up and stopped the contest.

It was a mercy for Joe that they did, for he was dazed and utterly unable to defend himself from Fitzsimmons' blows. Bob was tired out, too, but he would have finished Joe in a moment but for the interference of the police.

The fight was declared a draw at the end of the fifth round.

SENT TO COOPER COUNTY.

A Change of Venue Granted in the Silva Case.

Special Judge D. W. Shackelford, of Boonville, granted a change of venue yesterday, says today's St. Louis Republic, in the criminal court in the case of Louis J. Silva, charged with embezzling $100,000 from the Rainwater-Bradford Hat company. The case was set for trial.

At the calling, Ashley C. Clover, attorney for Silva, presented an affidavit asking for a change of venue on the grounds that the people of St. Louis were prejudiced against Silva, owing to certain newspaper publications since the case was last called, May 9.

The affidavits were made by Jas. R. Smith, a cork dealer, at Third and Walnut streets, and Arthur Horn, of the Sligo Iron company. Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop, after reading the affidavit, said to the court that the attorney had notified him that they would take a change of venue as early as last March, and that the citizens became prejudiced since May 9 was rather strange.

Judge Shackelford said that the change of venue would be granted. He adjourned the case until 2 o'clock to consider to what county he would send the case.

There have been, so far, three judges in the case. Judge Henry Edmunds was disqualified on account of an alleged prejudice. Judge Hirzel, of St. Louis county, was appointed, but after his appearance a half dozen times he became tired of the continuances by consent of both parties, and withdrew. Judge Shackelford was then appointed. At 2 o'clock Judge Shackelford reconvened court and sent the case to Boonville, Cooper county, the date of trial being set on October 15.

RAILROAD RUMBLE.

Passenger Agent Townsend Refutes a Story.

HAS SLANDERED NO ONE.

Items of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of "Democrat" Readers.

Recent publications in some Arkansas papers indicate that some sort of trouble has arisen between the people of Helena and the passenger department of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Dispatches to St. Louis papers related a story to the effect that a Mr. Van Etten had, called on Mr. H. C. Townsend and asked for a reduction of rates for the interstate drill at Little Rock. He did not get all he asked for, and evidently returned home feeling that he had not been treated just right. He is quoted as having reported that Mr. Townsend said "Arkansas ought to get more republicans and decent people before asking favors of the Missouri Pacific." This, according to printed reports, aroused a feeling of indignation at Helena.

Mr. Townsend, who has been out of the city for several days, was asked yesterday by a Republic reporter what it all meant. He said, in substance, that it was too ridiculous to talk about.

He had never given utterance to any such sentiment, and he was quite sure some mistake had been made in quoting Mr. Van Etten. Nothing had occurred upon which such a statement could be based. What Mr. Van Etten asked for was passes for bands for the drill, and Mr. Townsend said he would make a rate of 1 cent a mile, the same rate as made for the soldiers attending the drill. This is the rate given in Illinois and other states for such occasions, and, according to Mr. Townsend, just about covers the actual cost of transportation. There was nothing like a controversy—simply a pleasant conversation lasting about 30 minutes—between Mr. Townsend and Mr. Van Etten, and the silly story that has given currency concerning it was a great surprise to Mr. Townsend, as well as to his friends.

AIN'T A TEN-ACRE LOT!

No! no! no! It is nothing more or less than the biggest thing in Sedalia or Central Missouri in the music line—and, well! yes! we say it—we are selling more goods, getting in more cash, more goods sold on monthly payments, and much more all round solid business than all the other music houses in Sedalia combined or separate. Freight bills talk—drafts and remittances are mighty good evidence and we are not running any Ananias racket or Bluffing. We simply do the business, and we do it right on the square. Our expenses are simply awful, so the other fellows say. Well, they are awful. Awful small for the amount of our business—and the fun of it is our expenses are paid in cash. We have no time for funny business—life is too short, so we put in our time, our best licks, and all we weigh or measure in height, length, breadth or muchness, attending to business at

He is Not an Anarchist.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Morrison L. Swift, of Fitzgerald's Boston industrial army, appeared before the house committee on labor yesterday. Chairman McGann called his attention to an article in a Washington morning paper which alleged he had been connected with Honore Jackson, of Chicago, in an anarchist plot. When questioned he laughed and said he had never met Jackson but once, and had he known of any such plot he would have tried to prevent it. He said he had always deprecated violence in connection with strikes. He advocates that the government give work to the unemployed.

Almost a Horse Whipping.

The two men and three women who created such a sensation a few miles east of the city, last Saturday night, narrowly escaped horse-whipping at the hands of the irate farmers who had followed and overtaken them, being attracted by their unearthly yells. Both the men and women are said to have been grossly intoxicated, and they ought to be exceedingly thankful that they escaped arrest and prosecution.

Suits Selling.

The remarkable cheapness—'twas a surprising story—at which we have been selling stylish pattern dresses for the last ten days has been a surprise to everyone. The value and style for the remarkably low prices, has kept up the brisk trading—couldn't help it. No such values ever before.

The new patterns added to the line yesterday placed it where it has not been better selecting than now, with the tailor patterns somewhat leading. Think of the best 52-inch Coverts—(price $1.50 yard) and the 52 and 54-inch Tailoring Cloths—little checks and small dainty effects, worth $1.50 and $1.75 the yard, for only $5.00 for full pattern.

Enough if you come now.

DREW THE LINE.

A Judge Forestalls the Introduction of Incompetent Testimony.

"Some years ago," said ex-Attorney General Miller to a reporter for the Indianapolis Sentinel, "I was trying a case up in Whitely county, where things are not conducted with the formality that is the rule down here. It was a terrible hot day in August and the sun was cutting across lots to get at us. We had stood it bravely for three days and after the testimony had been all given to the jury we began with our arguments. Opposed to me was a man who weighed something over 200 pounds, and it got so hot that he began to sizzle. It came his turn to address the jury about the middle of the afternoon, and he began with a great big cabbage leaf sitting upon his head. As he became more and more enthused the cabbage leaf fell off, and then, as he began to warm up in his work, the only relief he could secure was by the removal of his wardrobe. As he started in to tell what an unprincipled villain the defendant really was he jerked off his coat and threw it on a bench. As he dived into the 'res gestae' he shed his vest. The motive for the crime brought his collar off with a jerk, and as he, in vivid words, began picturing the scene at the final moment one suspender slipped from his shoulder. It really began to get interesting.

"The court, as well as all the others in the room, had been dividing attention between the oratory and the shedding of apparel, and as that suspender slipped from the shoulder of the aroused orator the judge concluded that it was time that something should be done. He coughed once or twice and then remarked quietly:

"Counsel in presenting his case to the jury must not interpose anything that was not brought out in the evidence."

"The animated lawyer's fingers were nervously clutching at the other suspender, and as he heard the interruption he stopped in the midst of a concatenation of adjectives. He hadn't understood exactly.

"Your honor, I trust I shall be given sufficient liberty to expose—"

"The court interrupted him. 'You will be permitted in argument to expose everything connected with the crime as brought out by the evidence, but the court feels that you have shown a disposition to digress materially. You will please confine yourself more closely by adjusting your suspenders.'"

"And then he understood."

BUNCOED BY A WOMAN.

A Man Gave Change to a Woman Who Appealed to Him.

A neat little bunco game was worked on a St. Louis traveling man last evening about 8 o'clock on Union avenue, near the union depot, says the Kansas City Journal. The gentleman, who refused to give his name to the depot officials, stated that he had been to the train to send his wife home and then returned to the Blossom house to get his grips as he was going out on another train. As he passed up the avenue a well dressed and attractive young woman stopped him and in the most polite manner asked him to give her change for a $2 bill. She held the bill in her fingers and the favor was so simple that he took out the required amount and handed it to her. She received it with a charming smile and then coolly placing it in her pocket bade him good evening and started up one of the stairways.

"Hold on, you haven't given me the bill," said the St. Louis man. "I didn't agree to; I asked you for the change and you gave it to me, so that I don't owe you anything," exclaimed the woman, with another killing smile and she closed the door and was lost to view.

When the gentleman was telling the story to the depot officials he stated that he was at one time tempted to seize her and call for an officer, but he didn't care to be mixed up in a street scrape with a woman and so he let her go and take the cash.

"I've been on the road for nearly twenty years and then got worked on as soft a game as was ever put up," was the way he stated it to the officials. He furnished the police with a description of the woman.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

The Game of Youthful Trainwreckers Blocked at Holden.

"Simmie" Simpson, Earl Mitton, John Johnson and Chas. Baker, lads whose ages range from seventeen to twenty-one years, were arrested at Holden Sunday for placing obstructions on the track of the Missouri Pacific railway. The charge is a serious one, and the boys are out on $1,000 bond each.

It seems that a gang of section hands from Kingsville and Pleasant Hill came down to Holden, says the Warrensburg Star, to get their checks cashed Saturday night, it being pay-day with the Missouri Pacific. The section men traveled by means of a hand-car, which was side-tracked at Holden. The section men proceeded to fill up on Holden bug juice, and were soon in excellent condition for mischief. They visited the disreputable houses on Boiler avenue, north of the track, commonly known as "Smoky Row," and found the lads above named already there. The section men were quarrelsome and soon the entire crowd of men and boys were involved in a free-for-all fight. In the melee all the furniture in a house owned by May was broken and smashed into bits, and the Holden young men got decidedly the worst of the encounter.

The boys left Smoky Row and went west on the Missouri Pacific tracks to a convenient point, where rails and obstructions were placed on the right or way for the purpose of wrecking the section men's handcar.

In the meantime Night Watchman Fisher got wind of the arrangements, and went to the place where the track was obstructed, arriving just in time to save a heavily loaded freight train from a serious wreck. The obstructions were removed, and the boys placed under arrest. The Missouri Pacific company have taken hold of the matter in earnest and intend to prosecute the boys to the full extent of the law.

Assaulted With a Hoe.

The charge is made that Samuel Redcay, foreman on the B. G. Wilkerson farm, assaulted John Stewart with a hoe last Friday and injured him quite seriously. It is said that Redcay will be arrested as soon as Stewart is able to file complaint against him.

United in Wedlock.

David Barnhart, of the M., K. & T. shops, and Miss Maggie Price, formerly a compositor at the Bazaar office, were united in wedlock Sunday evening by Rev. J. G. Wade.

A Picnic at the Park.

The Montgomery Street M. E. church Sunday school will picnic at Forest park next Saturday.

WE'VE BEEN TOLD SO.

But Possibly the Information is Not Correct.

Perfumed garters are among the luxurious devices by which the aesthetic girl shows she is more daintily clad than most folks. Possibly she has several pairs, being careful to wear yellow ones with black hosiery and black ones with tan. These garters are made from watered ribbon about an inch and a half wide and solid silver buckles if just the garter is linked, or both buckles and stocking clasps if a supporter is preferred. The ribbon is doubled over a layer of cotton and sachet powder, and the wearer, if very fastidious, may have her name engraved on the silver buckles, so if she should lose there may be some chance of its return. Bridal garters must be made of white frilled elastic with silver or even jeweled buckles and knots of real lace.
